Success story

The Ministry for Education and Employment sponsors sports and physical activity programmes for children whose parents cannot afford to send them to classes. The process is simple and discrete, whereby the head of the school fills in a form that the parent can present instead of paying. For these courses, parents are also assisted in buying clothing, footwear and specific equipment, the cost of which might otherwise prevent participation. As the scheme is managed through schools, uptake and reach are high. https://education.gov.mt/en/education/student-services/Pages/default.aspx.
