The health sector’s role in addressing environmental determinants

09:00–11:30, Tuesday 13 June 2017
Ostrava City Hall
Language: English

Abstract
This side event aims to explore the role that regional and local health authorities can play in addressing the most pressing environmental impacts on health. Through case studies on air pollution, health impact assessment in urban planning, and selected decision-making tools for measuring the health benefits of climate change mitigation, it will highlight opportunities and challenges for the health sector.

Main organizers
- Public Health Authority of Moravian-Silesian Region, Czech Republic
- WHO Regional Office for Europe

Contact
Helena Šebáková
Public Health Authority of Moravian-Silesian Region, Czech Republic
Email: helena.sebakova@khsova.cz

Julia Nowacki
WHO Regional Office for Europe
Tel: +49 228 815 0428
Email: nowackij@who.int