Global situation dashboard
United Kingdom
Russian Federation
The reported data will be updated as more information becomes available.
from Italy and Spain.
Source: International Health Regulation (IHR 2005) reports; case report forms; mortality survey; aggregated data reported in European Surveillance System (TESSy); aggregated data

Summary overview
Week 24/2020 (8 - 14 Jun 2020)

The number significantly over 1: Albania, Israel, Kyrgyzstan, Turkey and Ukraine (See week 22/2020). The highest positivity was 15%, seen in week 13/2020 week 23/2020 was 9.6% (5 countries) compared to 5.7% (7 countries) in week 24/2020 in influenza-like illness in primary care sentinel surveillance. The updated positivity rate in mortality was observed primarily in the age group of cardiovascular disease the leading comorbidity (65%)

Ten countries in the Region each reported a cumulative incidence of 100,000 population: San Marino, Andorra, Luxembourg, Armenia, Belarus, Iceland, and Estonia. (see EURO COVID-19 Dashboard for recent trends). As of 07 June 2020, five countries in the European region had an effective reproductive number significantly over 1: Albania, Israel, Kyrgyzstan, Turkey and Ukraine (See week 22/2020). The highest positivity was 15%, seen in week 13/2020 week 23/2020 was 9.6% (5 countries) compared to 5.7% (7 countries) in week 24/2020 in influenza-like illness in primary care sentinel surveillance. The updated positivity rate in mortality was observed primarily in the age group of cardiovascular disease the leading comorbidity (65%)

The proportion of reported cases that died decreased from 4.4% in week 23/2020 to 2.1% in week 24/2020. The number of cases reported in week 24/2020 in the Region has declined by 50% since week 14/2020

The number of cases reported in week 24/2020 in the Region has declined by 50% since week 14/2020

21% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
57% of all deaths were in men.
65% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
75% of the deaths reported in week 24/2020 were from the United Kingdom, Russian Federation, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

65% of the cases reported in week 24/2020 were from the Russian Federation, United Kingdom and Sweden.
95% of all deaths with information available had at least one underlying condition, with 90% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
70% of cumulative deaths were reported from the United Kingdom, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

90% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
70% of cumulative deaths were reported from the United Kingdom, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

500 cases per 100,000 in week 24/2020: Armenia, Belarus, Republic of Moldova, Armenia, Belarus, Iceland, Portugal and Estonia. (see EURO COVID-19 Dashboard for recent trends).

22% of all new cases were in health care workers.
6% of all new cases were in health care workers.
12% of all new cases were in health care workers.
18% of all new cases were in health care workers.

The number of deaths reported increased in 21 countries compared to the previous week.

In four countries, the 14-day cumulative incidence increased compared to the previous week.

65% of all deaths with information available had at least one underlying condition, with 90% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
70% of cumulative deaths were reported from the United Kingdom, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

90% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
70% of cumulative deaths were reported from the United Kingdom, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

70% of cumulative deaths were reported from the United Kingdom, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

90% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
70% of cumulative deaths were reported from the United Kingdom, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

65% of the cases reported in week 24/2020 were from the Russian Federation, United Kingdom and Sweden.
95% of all deaths with information available had at least one underlying condition, with 90% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
70% of cumulative deaths were reported from the United Kingdom, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

90% of all deaths were in persons aged 80+ years.
70% of cumulative deaths were reported from the United Kingdom, Italy, France and Sweden. Of these, Armenia, Belarus and Sweden reached a

500 cases per 100,000 in week 24/2020: Armenia, Belarus, Republic of Moldova, Armenia, Belarus, Iceland, Portugal and Estonia. (see EURO COVID-19 Dashboard for recent trends).

22% of all new cases were in health care workers.
6% of all new cases were in health care workers.
12% of all new cases were in health care workers.
18% of all new cases were in health care workers.

The number of deaths reported increased in 21 countries compared to the previous week.

In four countries, the 14-day cumulative incidence increased compared to the previous week.